Ms. Hesse,

I wish to add my voice to the chorus of those disappointed by and opposed to the proposed settlement with Microsoft Corp. for their proven anti-competitive practices. I find the proposed settlement to be inadequate, and hope that it will be thrown out. The current proposal provides for no substantive punishment for the proven, illegal activities carried out by Microsoft; it provides no effective constraints on Microsoft's future practices; and it provides no effective means of enforcement for its provisions.

Sincerely,

Gregory R. Wold
